

Brenda L. Henry

Brenda L. Henry is Vice President, Strategy at the Social Impact Exchange (SIE). In this role, she supports various system transformation initiatives and works closely with the President to establish and monitor effective processes and growth capacities for the organization.

Before joining SIE, Dr. Henry held a variety of roles in the social, philanthropic, and public sectors, leading and working in partnership with teams to transform systems to advance equitable outcomes. She was most recently Vice President, Programs for the Bainum Family Foundation, where she led the foundation's programmatic efforts to build an equitable society where all children thrive. Prior to that, she was Chief Operating Officer for the Division of Child and Family Well-Being at the New York City Administration for Children's Services, where she developed, coordinated, and administered comprehensive performance improvement and capacity building strategies, including numerous mission-critical system and process upgrades.

Dr. Henry holds a Doctor of Philosophy in Health Behavior and Health Education and a Master of Public Health from the University of Michigan as well as a Bachelor of Science in Health Science from State University of New York College at Cortland.

Puerto Rico born and Bronx-bred, Dr. Henry lives in Harlem with her husband Safiy. To recharge from her work to dismantle systems of oppression, she can be found breaking bread, watching movies, and catching live concerts and shows with members of her beloved community.
